

Mission support

The doctoral school MIIS helps laboratories to assist PhD students for their training and career-related missions. Any request related to a trip in France or abroad will be examined by the governance of the ED MIIS. However, requests motivated by your professional project will be given priority. Please note that when a grant is obtained you commit yourself to carry out the mission.

Any request for funding to attend a conference, school, exhibition, symposium, etc., where you will be presenting work from your thesis (article, presentation, poster, paper, etc.) will be refused by the doctoral school. In such cases, you should contact your laboratory. The MIIS doctoral school considers that the presentation of thesis work forms part of a researcher's duties and, as such, does not fall within the scope of doctoral training.
